Iran Conference Ends In Failure

TEHRAN (AP)—Members of the Azerbaijan delegation said today negotiations with the central government had broken down and they would return promptly to Tabriz, capital of the self-proclaimed autonomous state.

A spokesman for the central government's Foreign Office denied the negotiations were deadlocked, but said "an announcement of the friendly termination of the conference is expected."

In diplomatic quarters there was no official word on the termination of the negotiations, but it was said the conference had been stalemated for several days.

An Azerbaijan cabinet minister said the break followed refusal of the central government's cabinet at a special meeting Thursday to accept new proposals of the Azerbaijan delegation, headed by "Premier" Jafar Pishevari.

The nature of these demands was not disclosed.

Sloan To Investigate Lumber Dispute

Lister Freed Of 4 Charges By Court-martial

AMSTERDAM (CP)—Brig. J. F. A. Lister of Quebec and Victoria, B.C., today was acquitted of four charges relating to misuse of Netherlands property requisitioned by the Canadian army. He was immediately released.

The decision of the court-martial was reached after less than an hour's consideration.

Brig. Lister, former chief of staff of the Canadian army in The Netherlands, faced four charges originally, but one was abandoned in the course of the trial.

The charge dropped was that the 39-year-old soldier had fraudulently misappropriated public property by causing food and coal to be delivered to his residence at No. 58 Oranjesassalaan in Amsterdam—the property he was accused of using improperly for private purposes after it was requisitioned for army use.

The other three charges were that Brig. Lister misused requisitioned premises; converted public property in the form of coal and food to his own use; and used for his own purposes the services of four Dutch civilians paid from public funds.

Brig. Lister had pleaded innocent to the charges when his trial opened last Tuesday.

RELIEVED OF POST

Brig. Lister was relieved of his post last January and charged after investigation of Canadian army affairs in the Netherlands by Lt.-Gen. C. P. Montague, retired chief-of-staff at Canadian army headquarters.

Lt.-Col. Bruce Macdonald of Windsor, Ont., chief prosecutor at the court-martial, said in his closing address Friday that "it is most distasteful to prosecute a soldier whose war record is so glowing and whose services to the country earned such high recognition."

However, if the court feels Brig. Lister's later conduct did not measure up to his own earlier standards then a verdict of guilty must be registered.

Lt.-Col. C. H. Gage, summing up for the defence, asked the court to disregard evidence given Friday by Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds, former commander of Canadian land forces in the Netherlands.

In his testimony Gen. Simonds criticized Brig. Lister's living arrangements in Amsterdam.

"Lt.-Col. Gage asked:

"How can we fail to fear that a commander who groundlessly suspended two chiefs-of-staff in a fortnight—who merely discovered he stirred up a mare's nest—see his own prestige as dependent on the outcome of this case as that of the character and career of the accused?"

AMSTERDAM (AP)—Winston Churchill received the Gold Medal of the City of Amsterdam today. Addressing the municipality, he said he was not unaware during the war of the horrors which occurred in Amsterdam, especially to the Jews.

Morrison Goes To White House To Discuss Growing Food Crisis

WASHINGTON (CP)—Gravity of the deteriorating world food crisis is being emphasized by the mission due to reach the White House tomorrow from London, headed by Herbert Morrison, Lord President of the Council.

The present trend of food allocations is believed to have left the hard-pressed British government with two possible courses:

1. Abandon its occupation of the German zone assigned to the United Kingdom and helplessly watch the complete disintegration of India's food economy, or

2. Seek by further desperate efforts to eat out enough from her own stores to maintain subsistence in India and the British zone in Germany.

At the same time it was announced that Uganda, which Capt. Mainguy, whose home is at Duncan, has commanded since commissioning in the Canadian navy, will return from a cruise around Cape Horn to Esquimalt May 27.

Woman, Girl Perish In Flames Of Home

SANFORD, Me. (AP)—An expectant mother and a 10-year-old girl who leaped from a third-story window with her clothing ablaze died today when fire swept through a three-story wooden apartment building here.

The woman, Mrs. Paul Fanjoy, 22, was burned to death in her first-floor apartment, where Fire Chief Curtis S. Allen said the blaze started.

Neighbors could be comforted to some extent by the fact that death, when it came, was sudden, with little or no pain. Also in death the family was not parted.

"Such events are a mystery to all of us," the minister said, "but we can find comfort in knowing that our lives are in the control and care of God."

Earlier in the afternoon funeral service for the eighth victim of the automobile accident, Mrs. Kathleen Wyatt, was held at Sand's Mortuary. It was conducted by Rev. F. Comley with interment at Royal Oak.

CAPT. E. R. MAINGUY

Canadian destroyer before the war, and the destroyers Assiniboine and Ottawa, during the war, as well as serving as chief of naval personnel.

Uganda, commanded by Capt. Mainguy, was the only Canadian navy ship to see action against the Japanese.

Mrs. Mainguy is the former Marquita Nichol, daughter of Mrs. Walter Nichol, Victoria, and the late Mr. Nichol, Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia.

Capt. Adams CAPT. K. F. during the war ADAMS commanded H.M.C.S. Prince David as well as Assiniboine, following Capt. Mainguy, and H.M.C.S. Iroquois, Tribal class destroyer.

61 Nazis Convicted: Ran Murder Camps

DACHAU, Germany (AP)—All 61 defendants in the trial of Mauthausen concentration camp operators were convicted today of torturing and killing thousands of prisoners in that notorious extermination centre.

They will be sentenced Monday. The United States military court of seven officers deliberated only an hour in reaching the verdict after a six-week trial.

The testimony against the 61 included a declaration by a former inmate, Izak Gruenberg, that some living prisoners were thrown into the crematory along with the dead.

Defendant Hans Altfuldisch, a prison compound commander, told the court that the camp's goal was to kill people and if the staff had refused "we ourselves would have gone into concentration camps and probably even have been killed."

Labor Minister Moves On Application Of B.C. To Avert Strike Threat

Views Differ On How Italy To Be Made Pay

PARIS (AP)—State Secretary Byrnes of the United States today accepted the Soviet Union's demand for $100,000,000 in reparations from Italy, but added conditions which led to a clash with Foreign Minister Molotov of Russia, an American source reported.

Mr. Byrnes, accepting the Russian reparations demand, was reported by the American source to have said these must be obtained only from:

1. Italian assets abroad.
2. Excess industrial equipment in former munitions factories.
3. Merchant shipping.
4. Naval vessels.

SAYS SHIPS BOOTY

Mr. Molotov disputed the last point. He said naval vessels were legitimate booty of war and should be apportioned among the victorious powers as such, not as reparations.

Mr. Byrnes replied that booty could be claimed only by those who had captured it, and the Russians had captured no Italian naval vessels.

The positions of Foreign Secretary Bevin of Britain and Foreign Minister Bidault of France could not be learned immediately.

Hundreds Attend Funeral Of Family Killed In Crash

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was crowded this afternoon for the funeral service of seven members of the Sleen family killed in the Nanaimo River bridge car crash near Cassidy.

It was the largest family funeral ever held here.

Rev. J. L. W. McLean conducted the services, after which interment was made at Royal Oak.

Three grey caskets for Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sleen and Orin Sleen, and four white caskets for the children, Dianne, Denise, Derrick and Douglas, were heaped with flowers.

The service opened with the singing of the hymn, "O God, Our Help in Ages Past," and later Mrs. Marjorie Goodwin rendered the solo, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." The closing hymn was "What a Friend We Have in Jesus."

Pallbearers for Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sleen were members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, B.C. E.R. employees acted as pallbearers for Orin Sleen. Friends of the family acted as pallbearers for the youngsters.

Five hearses and a limousine carried the bodies to the burial park.

Officers of the Eagles held a brief ceremony at the graveside.

Neighbors could be comforted to some extent by the fact that death, when it came, was sudden, with little or no pain. Also in death the family was not parted.

2 Sides In U.S. Coal Strike Negotiating As Truce Begins

WASHINGTON (AP)—A two-week truce in the soft coal strike eased the crippling pressure on the United States economy today, and raised hopes that settlement of the lengthy labor dispute is in the offing.

President Truman put both the United Mine Workers (A.M.W.) and pit owners on notice that he wanted them to work out an agreement in the next four or five days on a new contract.

With this injunction, U.M.W.'s chief John L. Lewis and the bituminous coal operators buckled down to the first of a new series of negotiation conferences.

Government agencies responsible for conserving dwindling fuel supplies meanwhile restudied their numerous strike emergency measures in the light of the truce development, but indications were that most, if not all of them would be continued until the long-range coal outlook becomes more definite.

(In Montreal Friday night, Canada's coal controller, E. J. Bruning, said that if the striking miners should return for only 12 days "very little, if any, coal would come to Canada.")

The truce in the 40-day walk-out materialized quite unexpectedly on Lewis' initiative Friday. Its effect is to send the miners back to work Monday until May 25. In that time it is estimated they can produce 25,000,000 tons of coal, gauging by the pre-strike weekly output of approximately 13,000,000 tons.

The producers declared today's negotiating session would be important as an indication of how much contract bargaining can be accomplished in a short time.

SOME REJECT PLAN

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Two Cambria County United Mine Workers' (A.F.L.) locals, with 1,500 members, have turned thumbs down on a return to work under a two-week truce proposed by John L. Lewis. Many other locals throughout Pennsylvania's big bituminous coal region were to meet today to consider the measure.

Sale of the two-story Jeune Block, which has frontage both on Pandora and Cormorant Streets, to the Co-operative Realty Holding Association, for an undisclosed sum, was announced today by L. W. Slade of Pemberton, Holmes Ltd., who acted both for vendor and purchaser.

The building was erected in 1910 for Philip J. Jeune, vendor. The new owners plan to convert the second floor to make room for offices while the ground floor will be occupied by the Co-operative Consumers' Society (Victoria).

26 Forest Fires Burning In B.C.

Twenty-six forest fires are burning in British Columbia today.

Weekly fire report of the B.C. forest service showed today 77 forest fires have occurred in the province to date, 16 of them in the Vancouver forest district which includes Vancouver Island. Cost of fighting the fires has been $1,039 so far this season.

At this time last year 63 forest fires had occurred and cost of forest fire fighting had been $647.

Fifty-nine forest fires broke out during the week. Forty were extinguished. Seven were burning last week-end.

The report described conditions in the Fort George district as hazardous.

CHIEF JUSTICE SLOAN

will be offered to the Chief Justice by the union in efforts to settle the dispute which threatens to tie up the B.C. lumber industry.

The employers also approved the appointment. R. V. Stuart representing the operators, said: "Lumber industry employers welcome Hon. Humphrey Mitchell's announcement of the appointment."

The government has followed a practical method, averting a tie-up of lumber production. The operators will gladly co-operate in this proposal."

Soviet Customer

JOHANNESBURG (CP) — South Africa has a snake queen. She is Mrs. G. Peers, who runs a large snake park. But besides her big trade of exporting live snakes, Mrs. Peers does a huge business in venom.

One of her best customers is the Soviet government, which is purchasing large quantities of cobra venom for use in cancer research.

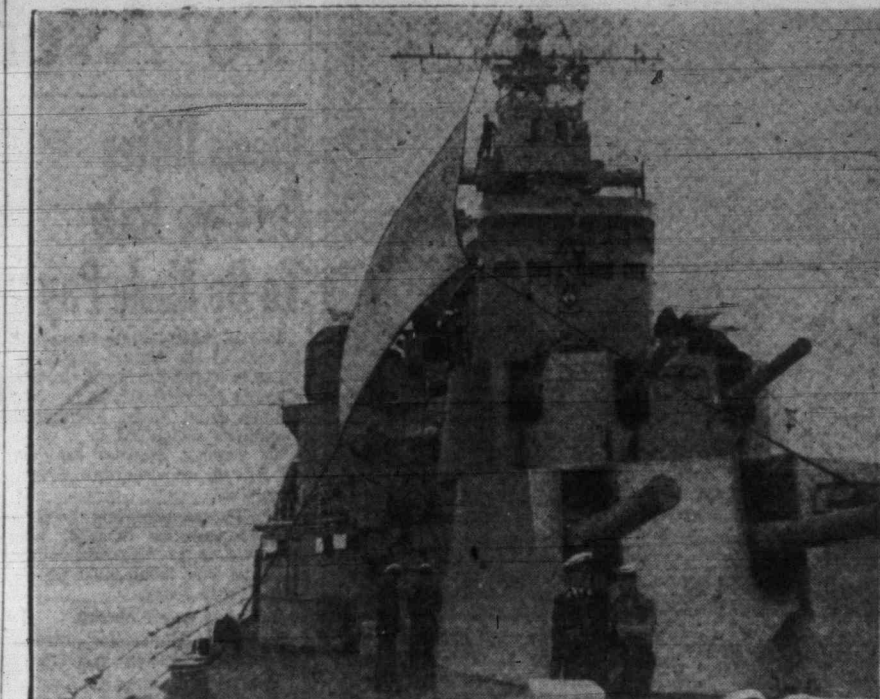

The boom in reptiles which is bringing a fortune to Mrs. Peers and has created a big export trade in live snakes for South Africa is due mainly to the war.

British zoos, which killed off their snakes when the war began in order to avert escapes during air raids, now are ordering replacements. American zoos are ordering large batches to replace wartime deaths. Cobras and puff adders are in special demand.

Uganda First Vessel Of Canadian Navy To Round Cape Horn; Had Good Weather

H.M.C.S. Uganda silhouetted against the grim headland of Cape Horn.

One of three sails improvised from awnings rigged by crew of H.M.C.S. Uganda to justify claim that their ship "sailed" round notorious Cape.

By Sub-Lt. JACK PATTERSON, R.C.N. (R.)

ON BOARD H.M.C.S. UGANDA AT SEA—The Royal Canadian Navy and the world's most infamous headland recently made acquaintance when the Uganda became the first warship from the Dominion to stall around Cape Horn. "Sail" is a literal statement for, in the interests of making the experience a complete one for the 789 men aboard the cruiser, three large awnings were rigged as sails and the ship actually passed the Cape on the wings of the wind. If the Uganda's 72,500 h.p. engines added a contribution to the passage it was purely incidental.

Almost perpetually angry and the scene of frightful storms, the legendary Horn was in its most agreeable mood when, in the course of its present 20,000-mile cruise, the Canadian warship passed before the rocky face so long associated with marine disaster.

GOOD RECEPTION

Indeed, the reception, like it has been in all ports of call in South America for the Uganda, could not have been more pleasant. From Valparaiso, Chile, the Uganda's last port of call on the west coast of South America, it is three days steaming to the famous Old Cape Stuff, as the gallant men of sail often called Cape Horn. During those three days the 789 Canadian seamen, many of them training in their first ship during this cruise, made everything secure and waited with considerable excitement for what the Cape had to offer.

The night before the Horn was sighted the seas mounted and the skies became overcast and the wind rose slightly. In the morning, however, when dawn broke there was a fair swell picking up the Uganda by the stern, but nothing like what might have been expected.

Just before noon the Cape was sighted off the port bow. It is a blackish looking rock rising out of the sea some 1,300 feet. From a distance of 15 miles the jagged peak seemed to rise out of a low-lying mist, and as the Uganda approached closer it was possible to see through glasses the white granite and patches of green moss that are interspersed throughout the surface of the rock.

All along the shore the large rollers broke against the rock and sent large sheets of spray up its face. To the east a few cables distance, a treacherous reef broke the rollers on their way in. It is quite possible that this has been the graveyard of many an old sailing vessel.

WHALES PUT OUT

While the rollers were of considerable size, it nevertheless was decided to send two whalers away for the purpose of making a picture record of the first Canadian warship to "round the Horn." The whalers' crews, most of them on their first cruise in a seagoing ship, had been practicing daily during the trip down the west coast of South America.

When the whalers had taken up suitable stations off the cape, Capt. Mainguy brought the Uganda past the headland twice to give the cameraman, P.O. Photographer Norman Keziere of Edmonton, ample chance for pictures.

There were times when both whalers would disappear from view entirely as they dropped down in the trough of a large wave. And, too, the whalers often lost sight of the cruiser as she steamed past in the rolling sea.

All along the upper decks during the time the Uganda manoeuvred off the cape, the ship's company lined the guard rails for pictures and a good look at the famed headland.

SAW ALBATROSS

Early on this eventful day a winged escort patrolled over the Uganda in the form of those fabled albatrosses. It is considered lucky to have them follow a ship around the cape. It might have been the fact that sometimes as many as seven or eight were visible at one time that the weather was so kindly. Also a goodly number of those famous cape pigeons were there to welcome the Canadian cruiser as she came round.

It is a lonely place off the cape these days, for most of the seaborne traffic from one coast of South America to the other passes through the Strait of Magellan. It is quite likely that the Uganda has been the first ship in that area for many moons.

of whom had their families with them, and added that the atmosphere of the housing area was "kind of like that of an old-fashioned lumber camp."

When pressed by Senator Ferguson (Rep.-Mich.), Doyle conceded that "we are very suspicious there was some rake-off."

He testified at a hearing called to investigate charges of widespread theft and mismanagement of naval property in Hawaii during wartime.

The high pressure area over the Pacific is approaching its normal summer position with resulting fog and low clouds over the coastal areas, adjacent to open water. Temperatures on the coast were generally near normal while over most of the interior they were well below normal. Another outburst of cold air is moving down on northern Alberta from the McKenzie northern area bringing widely scattered snow flurries.

Victorians Buying Flowers, Jewelry, Candy For Mother

Children young and old across the land will honor their mothers in thought, word and deed Sunday on the 42nd annual observance of Mother's Day.

Candy, flower and jewelry stores have been crowded these past few days with men and women seeking a remembrance for "mother." There will be letters, wires and telephone calls from children away from home and breakfast in bed from those at home.

"It is certain they haven't forgotten mother," said one jeweler today. "Glamour pins, necklaces and silverware have been popular gifts."

Telephones at the city flower shops rang busily continuously today as last-minute shoppers sought bouquets and corsages. Candy shop line-ups for the past week or two, were longer than usual.

Frank E. Hering, teacher, orator and humanitarian and a Grand Worthy President of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, made the first known public plea for a nationwide observance of the day in Indianapolis, Indiana, Feb. 7, 1904. Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia also worked for the establishment of the day.

President Woodrow Wilson on May 10, 1914, issued the proclamation for a nationwide Mother's Day and since that time, it has been the highlight on the calendar.

Plan Replacement Of Defective Sewer
Replacement of the defective sewer at Central Park, which sometimes backs up into the children's wading pool there, will be recommended to Monday's City Council meeting, Ald. J. D. Hunter, chairman of the public works committee, said today. This will cost $450.

He indicated that the contract held by the city for dumping garbage will be enforced in an attempt to prevent garbage from floating back onto the beaches.

Under the contract the city may cancel if the contractor does not take the garbage out far enough to "ensure its not returning to the shoreline of the City of Victoria or that of any of the adjoining municipalities."

The committee will recommend that yellow lines prohibiting parking beside fire hydrants be dispensed with because motorists are accustomed to parking

Asks Hangman's Job
WINNIPEG (CP) — The rehabilitation centre of the Department of Veterans' Affairs here received its most unusual but macabre employment request when a 31-year-old overseas veteran applied for a job as hangman. "It's a job I know I can do very well," wrote the man. He was advised by the D.V.A. counsellor to find employment as a farm laborer, his prewar trade.

At Willows Exhibition Grounds, Friday afternoon, 2,500 guides, brownies, scouts and cubs gathered to honor Lady Baden-Powell, World Chief Guide. Cubs gave their howl and made a circle around their wolfhead emblem. Brownies in the background formed a fairy ring around the toadstool in the centre. Guides and scouts later made a horseshoe formation behind the cubs.

When pressed by Senator Ferguson (Rep.-Mich.), Doyle conceded that "we are very suspicious there was some rake-off."

He testified at a hearing called to investigate charges of widespread theft and mismanagement of naval property in Hawaii during wartime.

6 Ships To Use Hudson Bay Route

WINNIPEG (CP)—Hudson Bay, offering prairie grain producers the shortest route to Europe, will be open to commercial traffic this year, for the first time since 1939.

A British shipping company will send six ships to the port of Churchill, 1,000 miles north of Winnipeg, to carry cargoes of wheat to food-starved Europe.

The elevator, whose machinery has been idle for seven years, will be reopened for the shipment of 1,800,000 bushels of wheat stored there during the war years.

Higher Pay Urged In Commons For Agricultural Scientists

OTTAWA (CP)—Trials and tribulations of the Canadian farmer were aired in the Commons Friday as discussion continued on agriculture estimates while, in a side debate, the House also considered the irksome problem of divorce.

The divorce discussion arose on second reading of three divorce bills from Quebec, only province without its own divorce court, and a half-dozen members agreed a solution should be found to the problem of having Parliament handle the cases.

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, suggested a federal divorce court be established in Quebec province for the use of the minority there which believed in divorce. Their wishes should be respected in the province of Quebec "in every particular."

In the agriculture debate, the House heard calls for increased salaries for Canada's agricultural scientists to compensate them for valuable work and retain them in the Dominion's service.

Mr. J. G. R. Peakes, V.C., P.C., Nanaimo, said the members of the Dominion experimental farm service received remuneration which was "hardly equivalent to their ability."

Gen. Peakes and J. A. Ross, P.C., Souris, Man., suggested farming be made more attractive for Canadian youth, and noted that only a small proportion of ex-servicemen were settling on the land.

SECURE EDUCATION

Agriculture Minister Gardiner said that "for 10 years before this war began young men and young women were congregated on the farms of this country because, during that period, farming did not make it possible for them to obtain sufficient funds with which to secure the education or training they desired in order to permit them to go elsewhere when it became necessary for them to do so."

"As a result, during the war 400,000 of them left the farms and went into the services or the war plants. . . ."

Under present rehabilitation provisions, man with a certain length of service and a certain family to maintain could draw as much as $10,000 to obtain an education.

That "is the explanation as to why many of them are not applying to do anything else at the present time."

9 Hurt In Crash

VANCOUVER (CP)—Nine persons were injured Friday when a westbound streetcar jumped a switch, turned completely around on the pavement and stopped facing south several feet off the tracks.

Some 31 other passengers were in the car. Only one of those injured, Mrs. E. Blades, was taken to hospital with minor injuries.

The mishap resulted from another derailment near the same intersection a few minutes earlier which opened the switch.

Wider Growing Of Sugar Beets Urged

OTTAWA (CP)—Rene Jutras, Lib., Provencher, Man., urged in the Commons that the federal Department of Agriculture take steps to make the sugar beet industry an integral part of agricultural production.

Mr. Jutras said the department should publicize the benefits of the sugar beet industry to farming as a whole. Besides producing sugar, the beets supplied molasses and cattle feed.

He felt the whole industry should be brought under the federal Department of Agriculture.

Ottawa Woman No. 1 Fan At Espionage Trials

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA (CP)—For sheer, sustained, this is better than books interest in Canada's espionage trials we give you Mrs. Heim.

Mrs. Heim has, for us, developed into one of the few characters in the surprisingly drab spectacle of the trials themselves.

While others stay away by the thousands, she attends the manifold sessions almost religiously. She shows up day after day, her short, stoutish shape garbed in attire that is surprising at times.

Sometimes she wears a purple velvet effect, sometimes something brighter. The other day she wore a tan coat with tartan tie fixings which looked quite smart and quite young.

Mrs. Heim is a Swiss woman who married a professor of languages who migrated with her to Canada and taught first at a university in western Canada and later at St. Patrick's College here. During the war he went to the Defence Department and he's still there.

Mr. Heim can't see the spy trials, Mrs. Heim says. He doesn't see why she is so interested.

But, she confided to us the other day—we have a chat with her nearly every trial day—"I wouldn't miss this for anything. . . it's better than any book."

Hardly a session passes, even the short ones devoted to legal formalities, without her showing that interest. She sits far forward on her seat, her legs crossed at the ankles, drinking in the developments.

Speech Therapist Helps Returned Men

TORONTO (CP)—It takes much patience and understanding to do Margaret McCurdy's work at Christie Street Hospital here. But the young Montreal-born speech therapist has won praise from both doctors and veterans alike for the help she has given aphasic patients at the hospital.

Miss McCurdy is the only speech therapist in Canada working for the Department of Veterans' Affairs. In her "classroom" at Christie Street are some speechless veterans, some unable to read or write and a few who cannot understand speech.

A mirror plays an important part in her classroom. Standing before the mirror the patient sees how he forms his lips for words, guided by Miss McCurdy.

Twenty-four-year-old Tommy, a private in the 48th Highlanders, was knocked back into infancy when he was shot in the left side of the head during the fighting in Holland. Today, thanks to Miss McCurdy, he can speak again and is learning once more how to read and write.

Florida Newspaper Job Awaiting Former King

SYOSSET, N.Y. (AP)—There's a job waiting in sunny Florida for Italy's abdicated King Victor Emmanuel III and for Queen Elena, too.

Lloyd C. Griscom, U.S. ambassador in Rome under President Theodore Roosevelt, recalled today that in 1909, while lunching with the royal couple in Italy, he mentioned he was going to retire from diplomatic service and publish newspapers.

The king, Mr. Griscom said, asked jokingly: "If I ever lose my job, will you give me one on your newspaper?"

Mr. Griscom said he replied, "Certainly, you can be foreign editor."

At this point, the queen asked, "What about me?"

"You can be women's editor," Mr. Griscom answered.

Mr. Griscom, who owns the Tallahassee Democrat, said the offer still goes.

Leiden University Honors Churchill

LEIDEN, the Netherlands (AP)—Winston Churchill received an honorary doctor of laws degree Friday from historic Leiden University and, in acceptance, urged the people of Europe to keep their war-won unity with the western hemisphere.

Conviction Upheld

BOSTON (AP)—The Massachusetts Supreme Court Friday upheld the conviction of John F. Noxon of Pittsfield of the murder of his mongoloid son, Lawrence, by electricity. The 49-year-old corporation lawyer was convicted by a jury in July, 1944. Noxon contended the six-month-old baby died accidentally by edging in contact with wires while the father was fixing a radio.

U.S. House Expected To Approve Loan After Lengthy, Sharp Debate

WASHINGTON (CP)—The $3,750,000,000 loan-to-Britain bill, accorded Senate approval, 46 to 34, Friday after lengthy debate and defeat of numerous crippling amendments, will be considered almost immediately by a House of Representatives committee and then sent on to that chamber for open debate.

Ultimate approval in the House is believed likely, but it is considered certain there will be a determined effort in some quarters to defeat it or delay final action until after next November's Congressional elections. Many House members already have denounced the loan in violent terms.

The loan agreement, reached last December after long negotiations led for the British by the late Lord Keynes, provides for a $3,750,000,000 loan repayable in 50 years with interest at 2 per cent.

(At Ottawa Friday the Canadian Senate approved a bill providing for a $1,250,000,000 loan to the United Kingdom. The bill now only awaits signing.)

In any year that Britain suffers circumstances which make interest payment difficult or impossible, the interest may be waived and canceled. No interest is payable until after five years after the loan is effective, and the effective interest rate is expected to be about 1.6 per cent.

The complete agreement provides an amount of $5,400,000,000, but $650,000,000 to enable Britain to liquidate Lend-Lease settlement is payable by the executive out of funds already appropriated.

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Attlee and Foreign Secretary Bevin expressed gratification today that the United States Senate had approved the $3,750,000,000 loan to Britain.

Mr. Attlee's personal secretary said the Prime Minister was "highly gratified" when informed of the Senate's action, and would comment later in Parliament.

Mr. Bevin said in Paris, where he is attending the Foreign Ministers' Conference, that the loan will "contribute to the peace of the world."

The average Briton looked forward to the proposed loan in terms of more dried eggs and canned food, and of expanded world trade.

Morning newspapers gave banner headlines to the Senate approval. The only opposition came from Lord Beaverbrook's London Daily Express, which declared editorially that the British people must "awaken before all is lost" and tell their government "our own preference and structure must not be bargained away over the conference table."

The Liberal News Chronicle predicted the loan would "help restore the broken fabric of international trade and lay the foundations of plenty—and of peace."

The Times of London said the United States could expect the "utmost co-operation from this country in the fulfilment of Washington agreements."

The London Daily Sketch, Conservative, said the "collapse of bitter and determined isolationist opposition in the Senate is a happy augury." It expressed the view, held by some other newspapers and many Britons, that the U.S. House of Representatives would approve the loan much faster than the Senate.

Advertising Men Conclude Conference

The Pacific Northwest Newspaper Advertising Executive Association conference closed at the Empress Hotel this afternoon after a two-day session. With about 50 members attending the conference, it was one of the largest the association has ever held in the Pacific northwest.

Members, their wives and guests Friday evening attended a dinner where a film, "Scenic Beauties of Victoria and Vancouver Island," was shown by C. Farris, official photographer for the B.C. Department of Trade and Industry, following a short address and introduction by W. A. Patterson, advertising manager Victoria Daily Times. The Times and Daily Colonist were joint hosts during the conference.

Today E. G. Rowebottom, deputy minister of the Department of Trade and Industry, addressed the members on "B.C.—The Land of Opportunity," at the luncheon meeting which followed the morning session of the conference.

Today and Sunday, out-of-town members of the association, will return to their homes on the Canadian and U.S. mainland.

Unnumbered Ration
Coupons Still Valid

Unnumbered ration coupons, with a beaver design on them and stamped butter, sugar and meat respectively, issued for visitors, members of the armed forces and persons required coupons but not entitled to a permanent book, are still valid and should be accepted by the trade. A. B. Food, local foods ration officer with the W.P.T.B., said today.

"Despite the large amount of publicity about unnumbered ration coupons, some dealers are still under a misapprehension regarding their validity," Mr. Food said.

"When the purple butter coupons expired in February, some dealers mistakenly thought that all purple butter coupons were thus invalidated. However, the order did not affect unnumbered coupons. With the expiry of the old pink sugar coupons, 46 to 70, the same old problem cropped up. All pink coupons with a beaver design, stamped sugar, are still valid and should be accepted by the trade."

The brown unnumbered meat coupons with a beaver design and stamped meat are still valid also, Mr. Food said.

SENATE APPROVES THE LOAN

THREE WEEKS AGO MICHIGAN'S Republican Senator Arthur Vandenberg, known as the United States Senate's "swing man" where key international issues are concerned, delivered an eloquent speech in the upper chamber at Washington which he intended the wavering members of his party to regard as the correct attitude to adopt toward the loan to the United Kingdom. And while yesterday's vote could scarcely be described as an overwhelming endorsement of the agreement negotiated by the late Lord Keynes and Viscount Halifax, the tally of 46 to 34 in respect of a highly-controversial issue, especially in a Congressional election year, will be satisfactory to its supporters.

The part which Senator Vandenberg, once an isolationist, selected for himself in international affairs took form in a magazine article which caused quite a fluttering in Republican circles nearly three years ago. He had realized the full impact of the war's implications; it had broadened his concept of the interdependence of all peace-loving nations. He was a tower of strength to the administration's delegation to the United Nations' Conference in San Francisco; his belief in his country's ability for world leadership has undergone no change. It was small wonder, therefore, that in his Senate speech he appealed to his colleagues to regard this financial assistance to Great Britain as of prime importance to "America's intelligent self-interest." Among the nine specific reasons which he cited in its support was his personal conviction that peace and the American system of free enterprise had a stake in "what happens upon this issue here." Against the rock of his potent arguments all the filibustering tactics of hostile Senators evidently came to naught. What is left to them—particularly Senator Langer and Senator Ellender—is their lengthy disquisitions in the Congressional Record.

Approval of the loan agreement by the Senate, however, is not the end of the chapter by any means. Not that there is much likelihood of the House of Representatives reversing the decision. But it should be borne in mind that all of the 435 members of the lower chamber must appeal to the electorate next November. Speeches and delaying tactics naturally will be in tune with political considerations. And in this regard, of course, both domestic and external conditions will be cited accordingly. Some of the southern Democrats, for example, are hostile to the provisions of the loan; the standard Republicans can be depended upon to turn this attitude to their best advantage. The average man in the average Main Street in the United States, nevertheless, is seized by the importance of the advice which Senator Vandenberg gave to his senatorial colleagues. Britain's reaction in the meantime, as expressed by Prime Minister Attlee and the influential British press, is one of relief and gratitude.

PRINCIPLE OF EQUALITY

GENERALISSIMO STALIN SAYS THAT he attaches great importance to the United Nations as an instrument for the safeguarding of peace and international security. He elaborates in part as follows:

"The strength of this international organization consists in the fact that it is based on the principle of equality among states, and not on the principle of domination of some by others. If the organization succeeds in the future in preserving the principles of equality, it will undoubtedly play a great positive role in the task of ensuring universal peace and security."

Interpretation of the word "equality" covers a wide area, including the fields of education, ability, environment, religion, and standards of living. The great task before the United Nations is to educate those who do not perceive that their national or domestic policies are secondary to universal peace and security, and who enthusiastically support the United Nations Organization until it interferes with their own standards. "Security," for instance, embraces in Canada various social services, and "rights" of different groups, who are determined to "defend" them. Most of them base their conception of "equality" on an equality of distribution of wealth. Most of them also regard such distribution as a matter of internal policies, which are not rooted in economics but in politics.

In defence of their internal policies as formulated by the "presidium" or governing body of the Soviets, Russia emphasizes continually the war against "capitalism." In defence of their internal policies both China and India might emphasize their need for emigration. In defence of its "standard of living" Canada might be against immigration and against "equality" of citizenship.

All these countries may be equally determined to back the United Nations Organization to the limit in the "positive role of ensuring universal peace and security." But if in the interests of peace and security the United Nations today suggested that Canada could benefit not only herself but the world by admitting 100,000 displaced Europeans to the Peace River, and presenting them with "equality of citizenship" and a million acres of land, would Canadians in general be willing to accept such a suggestion?

A CONSTANT MENACE

DURING RECENT DAYS MAJOR TRAGEDY has again emphasized to this community the lethal character men create in the machines which science and engineering skill have provided for their convenience and pleasure. The accident which wiped out an entire family up-island last week serves to underscore the need for the utmost caution in driving cars. Such incidents can occur under conditions which place slight blame on the shoulders of the driver; but no conditions can relieve him of his responsibility. At all times he must keep in mind the multitude of dangers which might lead himself and his passengers to violent death, and exercise the precautions necessary to avoid them. Even with adequate regard for normal hazards, the unforeseen may arise to claim human lives.

Statistics for British Columbia for the month of March, however, indicate the toll can hardly be said to have been limited to the so-called unavoidable accidents. Highway mishaps showed an increase of 70.3 per cent, while the number injured in them increased by 107.9 per cent. The death rate rose substantially and the amount of property damage was considerably higher.

The gravity of the latest tragedy, as well as others which have been made the subject of recent court action, stand out in cruel relief. In many other instances, motorists have been fortunate enough to escape with minor injury. The fact remains, however, that any car accident may have fatal results. The obligation to avoid negligence, even of a minor character, is always present.

A TEMPORARY HALT

ALL THE PEOPLE OF THIS COUNTRY and, for that matter, the world at large have received with a sigh of relief the news of a proposed halt in the United States coal strike. The two-week truce which Mr. John L. Lewis has offered to the operators, and which the latter have accepted, does not mean that all will be serene in this vital industry at the end of the period stipulated; but if the respite provides the requisite breathing spell for the negotiation of new policy detail, it is altogether likely that peace can be restored.

Of special significance, of course, is the fact that the miners' despotic and intractable leader set his feet on the path of conciliation only after he had sensed the growing impatience of the Congress. Both Houses in Washington were on the point of legislative action the effect of which might be better imagined than described. This 40-day strike in a major industry, incidentally, has served to impress upon the people of the neighboring Republic, and upon us in Canada as well, how industrial strife in one country can spread economic confusion far beyond its own territorial confines.

SOME PROBLEMS SOLVED

THROUGH THE CREATION OF THE Greater Victoria school district, some problems facing Victoria College have been solved. The change has brought virtually all municipalities whose young people go to college into the one unit and practically guarantees equitable contribution from municipal sources toward maintenance of the highest educational institution in the region. Moreover, possible location of the college in Saanich would not create any specific municipal problems under the present arrangement.

Should the building at Mount Tolmie be chosen, consideration might well be given to a related matter. Adjacent to the Normal School is the undeveloped Lansdowne field. The property has been acquired by the Department of Veterans' Affairs for allocation to returned men in small lots. Before any such program is instituted, the educational authorities might consider acquiring a reasonably large area in the northeast corner for playing-field use for students. From a superficial survey, it looks ideal for that purpose.

RANDOM GOLD

THE CARELESS HAND OF SOME GARDENER, tired of the monopoly California poppies had created in his borders, cast the plants aside on the slope where only moss and hardy weeds survive. But the displaced growth, un mindful of its callous disposal, took root. Now, in the glory of the May sun, the deep golden flowers blaze, a brilliant splash of color on the hillside. Above them, where soil lodges in depressions of the rock, broom bursts in radiant hue from its dull green bush, and below, where struggling grass is fading in the early summer, pale wild mustard adds the clean, light yellow of its bloom.

Here is the palette of some heedless artist, left negligently when he stopped painting the workshop of a goldsmith. Here are the colors with which he sought to catch the gleam of the precious metal, dabbled and experimented with the different pigments to achieve the desired tone. There is a richness in the disorder, a wealth in the ill-formed smears. And though they will not harden as paint on the artist's palette, will not endure as the gold he sought to portray, they will rise after the summer's fading and winter's death to shine bright and new again next May.

If the youth offers you his seat you are a somebody, or he is well-bred, or you look a darned sight older than you feel.

Maybe man is naturally ornery. You never hear of one forming a lot of good habits that are hard to quit.

It is significant that they (the Japs) destroyed only two groups of buildings in Tientsin—the university and the municipal offices.—Dr. Chang Poling, president Nankai U., Tientsin, China.

AN AUCTION FOR FAVOR

MUCH OF THE Anglo-Soviet duel for control of Prussia is hidden from view, yet not so much but that we know that much is hidden. The German officers who were captured at Stalingrad, and were for a time used to make propaganda against Hitler, have disappeared behind the famous iron curtain. But it would be naive to suppose that they do not continue to form an important connection with important elements of the German Army.

There is also a German army, a large and good one, which surrendered to the British. The story of that surrender has still to be told in detail. The story of what happened to that German army after the surrender is still hidden behind a silken curtain. Enough is, however, known to warrant the statement that the corps of officers in this particular army were treated with exceptional consideration, with enough chivalry to justify them in feeling that their careers as professional soldiers were not necessarily and finally terminated. Their treatment may have been in fact merely sportsmanship to a loser and chivalry to the vanquished. But it has suited remarkably what these German nationalists most want to believe—namely, that they will live to fight another war in which Germany will recover her territory and her greatness.

WHAT IS HAPPENING ON the surface confirms in every way what can only be inferred about what is happening under the surface. In the open the Anglo-Soviet duel is being fought out through the German political parties. The Russians, of course, are sponsoring and promoting the Communist Party. Its most prominent leader is Wilhelm Pieck; its director, I am reliably informed, is Walter Ulbricht, a former officer on Marshal Zukov's staff, whose wife has been one of the Marshal's secretaries. The object of the Communist Party is to swallow the Socialist Party, and thus to unite under one command the whole German working class. In the Soviet Zone and in Berlin, this has been accomplished. The British, on the other hand, are sponsoring the Social Democratic Party under the leadership of Dr. Schumacher, who resists the fusion of the Socialists with the Communist Party. They appear to be thinking wishfully that the British Labor Party can resurrect the second Socialist International to combat the third Communist International.

The most noteworthy fact about this political contest is that it is turning into an auction to gain the favor of patriotic German Nationalists. The Russians, bidding among the Germans for popular support of the Communists, are having to take the position that Germany should not be dismembered, certainly not in the west, and that the unity of Germany must be restored.

THIS IS, OF COURSE, a bit difficult to reconcile with the annexation of German territory by Poland. But the German Communists, who are now as always German Nationalists, have a very good private answer to this anomaly. It is that in the end a Soviet Germany—and a Soviet Russia will once again partition Poland, and that this will happen when war with the Western Powers is imminent.

The British, bidding for German support of their Social Democrats, are also having to offer unity to the Germans. They are meeting the Russian bid. As a result the political "re-education" of Germany, about which we have heard so much, now consists in teaching Germans that by exploiting the competition between Britain and Russia, making the two rivals bid against each other, they can recover the unity of Germany and make themselves the decisive military factor in the European and world balance of power! The walls of Berlin are covered with Communist posters, ostensibly calling for the unity of the Socialists and Communists, which have as their slogan, "Durch Einheit Zum Sieg" (through unity to victory). These are the very words, and were chosen because they were the very words—the trumpets and the banners—of German nationalism, pan-Germanism, and indeed of Nazism.

OUR FRIENDS in Moscow and in London are acting as if they had learned nothing about Germany. For here they are, returning to the very policies which brought them to the very edge of disaster. One would think the British Foreign Office would know by this time that in a contest with the Russians for Germany, the Germans will play one against the other till Germany has recovered her power; that then Germany will turn first against the West because the Western Powers are weaker. And one would think the Russians would have realized by this time that German Communists are Germans, and that after they have turned against the West, they will turn against Russia.

After all, if London and Moscow revert to their prewar policies, they are foolish indeed if they do not realize that the Germans will also revert to their prewar policies. And we shall commit the greatest folly of all if, instead of exposing and denouncing this mad Anglo-Soviet contest—and intervening to liquidate it—we let ourselves be sucked into it, blindly following the leadership of the blind.

THIS, AS I WAS able to observe it, is the German drama today. In my next article, I shall try to indicate how we, given the curious position we have in Germany, can best obtain a leverage to intervene. In order to avert what will otherwise most certainly be a catastrophe for the whole world.

GLOBAL SURVEY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press World Affairs Writer

Whether Winston Churchill's idea of a "United States of Europe, both of the east and of the west," materializes as a good-will measure of peaceful collaboration, the indications are that the Old World will in any event be divided into two blocs—friendly or otherwise.

One bloc already has been formed in the main. That is the new Russian zone of influence which blankets most of the countries of eastern Europe and the Balkans. The logical corollary will be a western bloc of nations which will combine because of their special community of interests, including a democratic form of government that is at variance with the Soviet totalitarianism.

Apropos of this thought, Mr. Churchill said in his speech at The Hague:

"We hope that the western democracies of Europe will draw together in ever closer amity and ever closer association. This is a matter which should be very carefully considered and, if found wise, should be pressed from many angles with the utmost perseverance."

Naturally the fact that there were two groups of countries wouldn't mean ipso facto that they must be at loggerheads. Mr. Churchill's "United States of Europe, both of the east and of the west," under the guidance of a world organization, would be calculated "to unify this continent in a manner never known since the fall of the Roman Empire." That would be the ideal. The cold reality is that nobody can say now what the relations among the Old World nations will be in the Europe of tomorrow. We cannot determine that until the realignment of the zones of influence has been finished—or at least until it is clear how great a change is contemplated.

The great unknown quantity at the moment is Russia's program. Moscow long ago made it clear that the Soviet Union was determined on extending its sphere of influence to the line

Plant 600,000 Trees

The B.C. government this year has planted in its reforestation program between 6,500,000 and 7,000,000 three-year-old Douglas fir trees. The entire program was effected on logged-off lands of Vancouver Island.

More than 4,000,000 trees were planted by government planters while about 3,000,000 trees were supplied from government nurseries to private companies for planting.

In the Jordan River district government-employed planters planted 600,000 seedlings. Plantings elsewhere on the island by the government included 900,000 at Hillcrest, 750,000 at Lake Cowichan, more than 1,000,000 at Salmon River and 750,000 at Loveland Lake.

Most of the planting by private companies was done in the Alberni and Comox areas. While the government has no totals yet on these private plantings, young Douglas fir trees were supplied to Bloedel, Stewart and Welch Ltd., sawmill and logging company with operations at Port Alberni and Campbell River, Alberni Pacific Lumber Co. Ltd.,

Victorian To Study Cherry Disease

A former Victorian, David Waddell, who this spring will take a postgraduate degree in entomology from the University of Toronto, will join the Dominion entomology staff to undertake a study of the virus disease, "little cherry," which has caused extensive damage in cherry orchards of the Kootenays.

Mr. Waddell, who is expected to start his study in June, will make his headquarters at Summerland where the Dominion government has an experimental farm.

Cause of the disease, which has spoiled whole orchards in the Kootenays in a season, has baffled entomologists for several years.

It is possible the virus is transmitted by one or more insects.

Four-Year Sentence

Mr. Justice Manson imposed a sentence of four years in the penitentiary on 20-year-old Thomas Syme after an Assize Court jury Friday found him guilty of breaking, entering and theft at the home of William Murray, 1912 Monteleith Street.

Ray Twaddell, charged jointly with Syme, pleaded guilty at the opening of the trial. A sentence of four years in the penitentiary will be served concurrently with one of equal duration which Twaddell is now undergoing for breaking into the Parkville liquor store. Syme was acquitted of burgling the Parkville store at the Nanaimo assizes.

"It is very hard to know what to do with boys like you," said Mr. Justice Manson. "I wish there was somewhere I could send you for physical, mental and religious instruction, for that is what you need."

He noted that Syme had enlisted in the army at the age of 16 and had been discharged on medical grounds, while Twaddell was a former merchant seaman with two long ocean voyages behind him.

A resolution asking that no Victoria citizen be excluded from swimming at the Crystal Garden, regardless of color, has been forwarded to the City Council by Miss Rae Kirkendale, secretary of the Community Welfare Council.

Co-operation Urged Of Home And School

Speaking on "Parents' Part in Helping Children Grow Up," Dr. S. R. Laycock, well-known psychologist, stressed the need for honest teaching of sex by persons with a healthy attitude, a true set of values than those taught by Hollywood and true love magazines, and a conscious partnership between home and school at Friday afternoon's session of the Parents' Institute.

Dr. Laycock spoke of the value of developing some sort of policy between the parents and the "playmate teachers," "community teachers" and the more expert school teachers, for the good of the children. National president of the Canadian Federation of Home and School, Dr. Laycock is also director of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene and member of the faculty of education, University of Saskatchewan.

The speaker warned parents of the danger of youngsters getting all the knowledge of sex and marriage from playmates in the streets; 90 per cent of it being estimated. Dr. Laycock said the well-adapted adult was emotionally, intellectually and socially mature, and had economic responsibility, this being the fourfold purpose of education.

Other needs were emotional and psychological independence, ability to accept and observe the ordinary amenities of life, to have friends of their own age, development of a stable sex pattern, and finding work that could become an absorbing interest.

The evening's address, also given by Dr. Laycock, "Conflicts Between Teen-Agers and Their Parents," created a keen discussion among the audience.

J. F. K. English, municipal inspector of schools, introduced the speaker at the evening session. Mrs. T. H. Evans, president of the P.T. Council, was in the chair.

Scores Hole-in-One

OTTAWA (CP)—The golfers thrill of a lifetime—the elusive hole-in-one—came Friday to Lady Alexander, wife of Canada's new Governor-General.

Her Excellency, a golfer of tournament calibre, picked up her number three iron on the short 146-yard sixth hole at the Royal Ottawa Golf Club and smacked the ball right into the cup for the first ace of the 1946 season here. She told her companions, Mrs. Mark Milbank and Mrs. W. B. Watson, that it also was the first hole-in-one in her golfing career.

An enthusiastic player, Lady Alexander was modestly pleased at accomplishing the feat, which few golfers ever perform. Asked if she intended entering any Canadian tournaments, she said she was undecided. She explained that she had a pre-war handicap of nine, but had been too busy to play since 1939.

Guides Join Hands Across The Border

Leaders of a mariner troupe of 25 girl guides who came from Seattle to participate in the guide-scout rally meet Lady Baden-Powell, World Chief Guide.

A guard of honor, composed of Guides and Scouts from various troupes in the city, carrying Union Jacks and company flags, greeted Lady Baden-Powell on her arrival at Whittow's exhibition grounds Friday afternoon for the mammoth Guide-Scout rally.

Escorted by two tiny Brownies, the World Chief Guide walked to the centre of the field and stood beside the wolfhead emblem of the Cubs and the white toadstool emblem of the Brownies.

As soon as she had taken her place a colorful and impressive ceremony commenced. The Cubs, in their dark uniforms, bright green caps and colored neckerchiefs, rushed on the field, giving their wolf howl and formed a circle around Lady Baden-Powell.

The Brownies in their khaki uniforms, waving colored handkerchiefs and humming softly came next to form their fairy ring. Guides and Scouts formed a horseshoe. The mass formation of 2,500 young people then gave

Firemen's Ball Popular Event

Red fire helmets worn by the orchestra and a huge helmet with silver letters, V.F.D. behind the dais set the motif for another successful Firemen's Ball at the Empress Hotel Friday evening.

The lovely spring formals of the ladies, white and delicate pastels added the decorative touch to the crowded ballroom where dancing continued from 9 until 2. A sit-down supper was served in the dining-room and the downstairs grill.

Lieutenant-Governor W. C. Woodward led the grand march with Mrs. P. E. George, followed by Mayor George and Mrs. Woodward, Alderman B. J. Gadsden and Miss Ruth Maclean, Aldermen and firemen followed with their ladies.

Members of Victoria Fire Department in charge of the affair were: J. A. McAllister, president; E. Hume, J. Chaplin G. White, W. Blair, G. Russell, K. Mills and J. Easton.

Address On Nursing

"The development of public health services has created a demand for nurses," stated Miss Monica Frith, consultant in public health nursing with the Provincial Board of Health, when she gave an informative talk on nursing to the girls at Mt. Douglas High School.

Miss Frith outlined the physical and mental qualifications required and training needed, emphasizing the necessity of choosing an approved nursing school. The speaker pointed out that many special fields are open to the nurse upon completion of her course.

"A trained nurse is a better member of the community and will be a good home-maker," declared the speaker.

Parks Commissioners In Convention

Delegates to the International Association of Park Commissioners inspected Beacon Hill Park Friday, opening day of the reorganization convention. The afternoon was spent in a tour of Butchart's Gardens, the Saanich Peninsula and Saanich Arm, concluding with tea at the Malahat Lookout.

The delegates from eight coast cities and Calgary expressed intense interest in parks development here and said they would take back many good ideas to their own communities.

Officers were elected this morning and details of the organization, which has been dormant for almost 15 years, settled. The association was discontinued during the depression years, and its suspension carried on through the war.

However, Ald. D. D. McTavish, chairman of the parks committee here, felt that it would be of benefit to parks departments in all coast cities to exchange ideas and took the initiative calling this initial meeting.

This afternoon will be spent in a tour of the parks in the city and district. Tonight the city will entertain the delegates at a civic dinner, at which a government film on Vancouver Island will be shown by Clarence Ferris.

DAD'S DUTY TO DAUGHTER

These lines are addressed to the fathers of young girls: Listen, pop, have you ever thought about being anything but a cash register to your girls? Have you ever tried to help them shape their lives so as to get happiness out of them? Have you ever attempted to teach them anything about men, and how to pick out husband and keep him after they get him?

Ninety per cent of the fathers in the world would have to answer no, if they replied honestly to these questions; yet they adore their Sallys and Susies and work their fingers to the bones to buy them pretty clothes and give them good times, but they don't try to understand them or guide them.

Every father, worthy of the name, feels it his duty to give his boys a hand up at the beginning of their careers, but he expects his girls to be self-starters. Indeed, instead of helping them, he so often handicaps them by his antiquated prejudices and petty tyrannies and personal selfishness that they cannot compete in the race with girls whose fathers are helpers instead of hindrances to them.

NEED PATERNAL HELP

Take, for instance, popularity, which is not only a matter of pride and happiness to a girl, but one of the main factors of her success in life. Every girl wants to be admired. She wants to be liked. She wants, in the words of the old poem, every eye to grow brighter at her coming.

But this can only happen to her if her father co-operates with her. If he is one of the puritanical parents who believes that his daughter should never go with the school crowd, or to a movie without mama holding her hand, or have a date until she is so old she is almost on crutches, he not only embitters her young life, but he practically dooms her to old maidenhood.

For he has put her out of the running. She belongs to no set, and she is utterly ignorant of the technique of handling boys. And the same thing happens to her if father refuses to give up his favorite chair in the living room when Sally has a beau. The boys never come twice to a house where the girl's parents sit around and listen in to their artless conversations. Any father who doesn't want a houseful of spinster daughters has to write welcome on the doormat and make himself scarce.

REAL FROM PHONEY

And another thing, dad, do you ever think that if Sally marries a drunken, good-for-nothing, that it is largely your fault? From the time she was a little girl in pig-tails have you talked over with boys she played about with and pointed out to her the traits by which she could tell a real man from a phoney?

Do you make it your business to get acquainted with all of Sally's dates and wise her up as to which ones drink too much, which are skirt-chasers, and which have brains and character and would be safe to tie to? Or do you wait to be introduced to your future son-in-law at the foot of the altar, when it is forever too late to save Sally if she has made a bad choice.

Fathers don't realize it, but their influence over their daughters is far more potent than their mothers' because the girls know that father has seen more of life than mother has and is a wiser guide among its pitfalls. No girl is so safe as the one who has always chummed up with her father.

Oak Bay United W.A., East Group, Tuesday, 2.45, home of Mrs. W. F. Perry, 894 Island Road.

KIDNEY ACIDS Rob your Rest..

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn and toss—blame it on "nerves"—when it may be their kidneys. Healthy kidneys filter poisons and excess acids from the blood. If they fail and impurities stay in the system—disturbed sleep often follows. If you don't rest well get and use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's help the kidneys so that you can rest better—and feel better.

London Newsmen Pays Tribute To Canada's Efforts

David Walker, foreign correspondent of the London Daily Mirror, whose mother, Mrs. Mollie Walker, lives at Duncan, has arrived in Victoria on a continent-wide assignment to give Daily Mirror readers an overall picture of North America and its problems in this postwar period. He is staying at the James Bay Hotel.

Mr. Walker, who was with the American 9th Army throughout last year and whose war-reporting assignments have taken him to Greece and Italy besides the battle route over northwest Europe, said his parents came to Vancouver Island in 1937 and that he was going to spend a fortnight with his mother starting Monday. His father died during the war.

Speaking of the acute food shortage in some countries in Europe Mr. Walker gave high credit to Canada for its fine war effort and postwar effort on behalf of England and Europe. He said he had found the people of the United States want to help in the food shortage but their will in this regard was not being fulfilled to the extent the people want it due to administration and Congress constantly coming to loggerheads on the problem.

"I have not seen such well-stocked shops and bars as I saw there in a long time," he said. The quality of food in England, he said, was not much changed from when the Canadians started their repatriation.

In the first count, Miss Porter led, but by the second count, Miss Hurst had jumped ahead to a lead of 6,000 votes and continued building up her lead to the third count reported Friday.

Standing of the other contestants is: Evelyn Dabinett, Esquimalt P.T.A., 27,750; Gwen King, Oak Bay Community Centre, 25,350; Madge Stride, Spencer's Sports and Social Club, 23,000; Margaret Scott, Civic Services, 17,000; June Flinton, Y.M.C.A., 15,000; Joyce Donaldson, B.C. Electric, 12,000.

A People Gains Consciousness

Scripture: I Samuel, Chapters 1-7, especially I Samuel 7:1-8, 13-15
By WILLIAM E. GILLROY, D.D.

When, and how, does a people become a nation? History has various answers. Sometimes the process is slow, as in the building of Canadian life out of provinces, with much common heritage, but widely separated geographically and in sentiment. Sometimes the process is rapid, but not altogether effectual, as in the national developments following World War I.

In the history of Israel the process was slow in beginning, but swift and strong in its final stage because strong leaders came on the scene. In the progress from Egyptian bondage through the wilderness to the Promised Land, the consciousness of the people was tribal, racial and religious, rather than national. When the religious life was at a low ebb, as it was repeatedly in the lapses of the people into idolatry, the lines of distinction between the Israelites and their idolatrous neighbors were weakened. In the period of the Judges leaders like Joshua and Deborah, the woman judge, exercised great influence, but after them came evil days.

Eli, the high priest, seems to have been a man of personal integrity and loyalty to the people, for the news of military disaster to Israel so overcame him that he fell from the balcony where he was sitting and was killed. But the record concerning Eli is that "his sons made themselves vile, and he restrained them not." The course of these sons, accepting bribes and misconducting themselves with women worshippers who came to the temple, shows to what a corrupt state the people had fallen.

But now there came a new leader, who with religious fervor and integrity combined high qualities of political leadership. It was under this new leader, Samuel, that the people attained such strong national consciousness that they rejected Samuel himself, as the religious head, demanding a military leader and king, thus paving the way for that disaster which was shortly to come upon them.

The story of Samuel, both in its personal aspects and in its political implications, is of great interest. We see him first as the little boy in the temple, brought there by his mother, Hannah, and devoted to the service of the high priest, Eli. He was the child of love and prayer. His father, Elkannah, is one of the truly noble figures in the Old Testament, a man of delicate feeling who truly loved his wife, despite her barrenness; and Samuel, in the beautiful account of his birth was the child of his mother's prayers.

Rev. J. A. MacRae of Edmonton, Alberta, who will preach in First Baptist Church, Sunday morning, and through the week following conduct a campaign of "Visitation-Evangelism" in that congregation.

Eli, too, was more successful with his little helper than he was with his own sons; and when Samuel heard a voice calling him, Eli did not rebuke him, or make fun of him, but recognized that it was a divine call, and told him when the call came again to say, Speak, Lord, for thy servant heareth.

From that hour Samuel became conscious of a great mission. He cleansed the temple of its abuses, restored and strengthened the religious life of the people, but became also their political and military leader. He took hold with a firm hand, and if we picture him as the mild little child serving in the temple, we must put beside that picture the severe judge hewing in pieces before the altar the enemy king, Agar, in retribution for his acts of atrocity.

Investigate Costs Of Moving Hutments

Further investigation is being made by Ald. Margaret D. Christie, chairman of the city welfare committee, into costs of moving and converting army hutments from Tillecum army camp to grounds of the Crow Baker Home for use as residences for the aged.

If it is found that the buildings can be moved for less than the quoted figure of $1,500 the welfare committee will be prepared to consider taking them over, she said, but at the $1,500 figure it would be out of the question, Mrs. Christie said.

Sanich has definitely stated the municipality would not consider converting the buildings on their present site, she said, and in addition the site is not particularly suitable for a home for the aged, being too far from the city.

The welfare committee still has a credit of $5,800 to be used to establish an old folks' home, Mrs. Christie pointed out, but she questioned if it would be wise to use the money at the present time when building costs are very high and materials are desperately needed for housing programs.

"By next year the housing crisis should have eased somewhat," she commented, "and we can go ahead with our old folks' home."

'Berkeley Square' At Vic High Tonight

The play "Berkeley Square" was presented by U.B.C. Players' Club at Victoria High School this afternoon, and will be given again tonight at 8. Both performances are under auspices of the Kinsmen Club.

It is the club's 31st annual spring production. Arthur Hill is starred in the role of Peter Standish, who though an absorbing interest in the past suddenly found himself transported from the modern day into the 18th century.

Cathedral Service To Be Broadcast Coast To Coast

"Church of the Air," the CBC program which is broadcast over the national network, will come from Christ Church Cathedral, Sunday, starting at 1.30, daylight time.

Dean Spencer Elliott will conduct the half-hour service and the cathedral choir will be under the direction of Thomas Jenkins, organist and choirmaster.

An introit by Palestrina, "We Adore Thee O Christ," will commence the service. A short prayer, Psalm 86 and a short lesson will follow.

Then radio listeners will hear the anthem, "Thou Wilt Keep Him in Perfect Peace," by G. L. Williams. Basing his remarks on the title of the anthem Dean Elliott will give an address, "The Hymn 360: 'O Worship the King'" will close the service.

Churches and clergymen heard on "Church of the Air," a CBC Sunday feature are selected by an advisory committee in Toronto.

Frank Winn of CBR, will come from Vancouver to announce the service from the cathedral.

of agriculture, as sole royal commissioner to inquire into the indebtedness of irrigation, dyking and drainage districts to the provincial government, was announced today by Lands and Forests Minister E. T. Kenney.

Purpose of the inquiry will be to determine whether or not the districts can repay the outstanding balances due the province in whole or in part, and the amount they can pay annually.

Total debt of the 16 irrigation districts and 10 drainage and dyking districts was about $5,000,000, of which $3,500,000 has been written off by the province.

Irrigation districts which Dean Clement will study will be: Black Mountain, Cawston, East Creston, Glenmore, Heffley, Keremeos, Naramata, Oyama, Peachland, Robson, Scotty Creek, Southeast Kelowna, Vernon, Westbank, Winfield and Okanagan-Centre and Wynnndel.

Dyking and drainage districts include Chilliwack, Coquitlam, Dewdney, Maple Ridge, Matsqui, Pitt Meadows 1, Pitt Meadows 2 and Sumas.

Spokane Delegate Named Chairman Of Park Commissioners

L. R. Hamblin of Spokane was elected president of the International Association of Park Commissioners of the Pacific coast today at the reorganization convention being held here, as it was decided to stage the 1947 convention in a Spokane.

W. H. Warren, city parks superintendent, was elected secretary-treasurer, and F. S. Hendrickson of Tacoma was made vice-president.

Delegates had an hour-long discussion on the merits or otherwise of using forest type trees for boulevard and park purposes. Most of the delegates from cities on the coast side of the mountains were against use of forest type trees for such purposes, while delegates from other cities favored the use of any kind of tree which would grow.

There was a brief discussion on public recreation programs, with Mr. Warren pointing out that recreation had been largely neglected in Victoria until the recent formation of a Recreation Council here.

Mr. Warren gave a short address on the set-up of Victoria parks and boulevards, explaining how Victoria city administrators boulevards which are paid for by the residents living in boulevard areas.

Ald. D. D. McTavish, city parks committee chairman, presided over the meeting.

This afternoon delegates toured the city parks and several of the finer private gardens. They were taken around the waterfront area. This evening the convention will close with a civic dinner tendered in their honor.

Joint Shipping Line Resuming Service

Resumption of the peacetime service of the North Pacific Coast Line, a joint service of the Royal Mail and Holland-America Lines, with the schedule arrival here of the freighter Phillips Woermann, was announced here today by George Paulin, shipping agent.

The vessel, which left the United Kingdom in March, is expected to arrive here early in June.

Delegates Discuss Pacific Problems

Delegates to the ninth annual conference of the northwestern branches of the Canadian Institute of Pacific Relations and the Canadian Institute of International Affairs assembled in Victoria College classrooms Friday night for the opening meeting. The sessions will conclude Sunday at noon.

W. L. Holland, New York, secretary-general of the Pacific Relations Institute, will be principal speaker at the dinner tonight at the Empress Hotel. He returned recently from China.

More than 60 delegates from the American northwest and British Columbia are attending the sessions which deal particularly with Pacific affairs.

New Ride Thriller In Crescent Shows

"Boomerang," the new streamlined type of amusement ride designed to provide plenty of thrills, will be one of the features of Crescent Shows' on Blanshard Street from May 13 to 25 to take in the Empire Day celebration period.

Harry Witt, president of the U.S. Riding Devices Corp., New York, has arrived in the city by plane to supervise erection of the new amusement thriller.

The "Boomerang" is the only riding device that catapults a car full of passengers from its sustaining fastings over a rise and through a tunnel in a spinning motion.

Octopus and the Lindy Loop will also be added to the list of features.

Crescent Shows travel in 15 railway cars with a staff of 100 people.

Little Change Here In Employment Scene

Employment picture in Victoria has changed little in the past two weeks, with 709 vacancies for men today, as compared with 724 last week, according to figures released by C. A. Mudge, manager of the Victoria office of National Employment Service.

Need for heavy laborers still tops the vacancy list with 212 openings. There are 183 jobs for skilled and semi-skilled men and 157 for construction workers. Also needed are service workers, 76; logging, 74; clerical and sales, 63; light labor, 33, and agricultural workers, 23.

An increase in openings for women was noted with 384 vacancies this week as compared with 337 last week. There are 117 openings for service workers; 82 for clerical and sales; 72 waitresses; 60 domestic service workers; 30 laundry and dry-cleaning workers and 23 unskilled.

Motorist Fined $40

Pleading guilty in city police court today to a charge of dangerous driving which resulted from a traffic accident shortly after midnight Friday, William Stevenson was fined $40 and will be allowed to drive for business purposes only for three months.

Constable I. Grommers said Stevenson's car hit a parked car on Johnson Street. The parked machine was owned by W. Money, 1109 Johnson Street. Both machines were damaged considerably.

Victoria Musician Makes Perfect Festival Score

VANCOUVER (BC) - Marilyn H. Bacon, Victoria, is the first contestant in the nine-day B.C. musical festival to make a perfect score.

In Friday's competition in the John Goss Studio, Marilyn received 100 marks in the "ear test" for contestants under 17. Sidney Harrison was the adjudicator.

Order Coal Now Urge Local Dealers

Fear of the possibility of a strike in the Alberta coal mine fields this summer or fall, and likelihood of diversion of a quantity of Alberta coal to Ontario, in the event of a lengthy coal strike in the United States, were expressed by some dealers today who advise consumers to order their supplies of winter coal now.

Here's What's Happening at FLETCHER'S

"I would advise people to get in their coal as fast as they can; we are doing everything we can to get the coal," said H. L. Johnston of the Harrison Coal Company, who said the possibilities of a strike in the Alberta coal fields this summer or fall, were being mentioned.

Spokesman for another coal company stated that the mine-owners had advised the company it would not receive the same quotas of Alberta coal this year as last.

"Some of the supplies may be diverted elsewhere and we are advising all our customers to order their fuel now."

Building Figures Show Slight Drop

The building boom in Greater Victoria took a slight downward trend this week with only permits valued at $196,419 being issued in the area.

The city edged out Saanich for the lead by issuing 36 permits, valued at $66,724. There were 10 houses in this figure and no large commercial buildings.

Four permits issued for construction of service stations and stores featured Saanich building this week.

A $6,000 service station will be erected at Quadra and Cook Streets; a $3,500 service station on the West Saanich Road at Brentwood; an $8,000 combination service station and store on East Saanich Road, and a $9,500 store at Quadra Street and Cloverdale Avenue.

A total of 18 permits with a $63,095 value were issued during the week. Seven house permits valued at $33,800 were issued as follows: Two five-room houses on Mayfair Drive, one to cost $7,200 and the other $6,000; two five-room dwellings on Winton Street, one to cost $4,500 and the other $4,750; a four-room house on Harding Lane to cost $5,000; another four-room house on Tully Avenue to cost $3,850, and a three-room dwelling on Malton Road to cost $2,300.

Ten permits were issued in Oak Bay during the week for construction costing $57,300. Seven of the permits were for houses costing $56,000. They were for a $4,200, five-room house at 2059 Carnarvon Street; a $9,000, five-room house at 3375 Cadboro Bay Road; $5,000, seven-room store and dwelling at 697 St. Patrick Street; a $13,500, eight-room house at 3595 Beach Drive; a $10,000, seven-room house at 360 Beach Drive; a $4,800, five-room house at 1560 Clive Drive, and a $9,500, six-room house at 3496 Upper Terrace Road.

Three building permits were issued in Esquimalt this week for construction totalling $9,300. One permit was for a four-room dwelling at 869 Wollaston to cost $5,500; a four-room dwelling on Tillicum Road to cost $3,600, and a garage at 645 Lampson, $200.

One of the city's earliest residents who came here in 1867, Mrs. Henry Bailey, 632 Hillside Avenue, died Friday morning in her 91st year. She spent some years pioneering at Kyquut, on the west coast of Vancouver Island prior to coming to Victoria.

Prizes for prints were awarded at the monthly meeting of the Victoria Camera Club in the Y.M.C.A. as follows: 1, "Royal Oak Inn," by W. H. Squire; 2, "Portrait," by B. W. Hill-Tout; 3, "Sandy," by Irvin Dawson. The "Camera" traveling exhibition of prize prints from Baltimore was enjoyed by Stephen Jones, who talked on the fine points of the prints.

C.C. of L. Denies It Seeks Strikes
VANCOUVER (CP) - The Canadian Congress of Labor does not "seek strikes," according to the Congress' national secretary-treasurer Pat Conroy.

Mr. Conroy, addressing a union delegation here Friday night, criticized alleged failure by the government to plan for the post-war transition period.

"It has been mooted that we deliberately seek strikes," he said. "I want now to give the direct lie to such statements."

New York Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—Assorted stocks resumed the recovery push in today's market although profit cashing on Friday's late bulge left many leaders in the losing column.

Dealings slowed after a last opening. Subsequent pick-ups and transfers for the two hours were the largest for a similar session in three months. Plus signs, running to two or more points, were reduced in a number of cases with losses rather well distributed near the close.

On the plus side among Canadians were Canadian Pacific at 19 1/2, up 1/2, Distillers Seagram at 109 1/2, up 1/2, and International Nickel plus 1/2 at 41 1/2. Dome Mines lost 1/2 at 23 1/2. Hiram Walker was unchanged at 127.

Dow Jones averages closed today as follows:
30 Industrials 208.06, up .96
20 rails 64.37, off .04
15 utilities 48.24, off .01
65 stocks 77.23, up .20
Total sales, 900,000 shares.

Hamilton Woman At York Monday

A magnificent necklace, brooch and bracelet of amethysts, presented to her by England's great actress, Ellen Terry, and a large amethyst ring, given to her by Mrs. Patrick Campbell, were worn by Sara Allgood in Alexander Korda's "That Hamilton Woman" on view at the York Theatre Monday.

The lovely jewels are the most cherished among the treasures of the famous star of the Abbey Playhouse in Dublin, who plays the role of Vivien Leigh's mother in the picture, having been given to her at important moments during her career.

Ellen Terry presented her with the set during her last tour when the old star predicted a brilliant future for the younger woman. The Campbell ring has her real name, Beatrice, embossed on it.

DOMINION THEATRE

Prepared for the screen by John Huston and Howard Koch from an original story by Mr. Huston, "Three Strangers" is now at the Dominion Theatre, starring Geraldine Fitzgerald, Sydney Greenstreet and Peter Lorre, is the tale of a weird partnership in a sweepstakes ticket and its owners who become involved in murder. The "Three Strangers" meet on the eve of the Chinese New Year in most peculiar circumstances.

OAK BAY THEATRE

Wartime bouquets have taken on a new aspect in the farmlands of Iowa. And, according to pretty Donna Reed, a very practical aspect, too.

On the M-G-M set of "Dr. Gillespie's Criminal Case," which is currently at the Oak Bay Theatre, she received a box from her home. It contained a bouquet made up of a large gourd, filled with all manner of vegetables and "farm produce, arranged in imitation of a floral centerpiece. Carrots, beets, turnips, chard, okra, and other edibles made up the bouquets.

PLAZA THEATRE

Although Elspeth March has played many leading parts on the English stage, her characterization of Rose Cooper in "Mr. Emmanuel," the G. S. F. film now holding forth at the Plaza Theatre, is her first contribution to the screen.

Elspeth is 28, dark-haired and grey-eyed, and is married to film actor Stewart Granger, whom she met when touring with the Birmingham Repertory Company at Malvern. She has played mostly Shakespeare on tour, many times as lead opposite her husband. Her first important London role was in "Jonah and the Whale."

ATLAS THEATRE

Hailed as one of the finest technicolor spectacles of the year, "The Spanish Main," now at the Atlas Theatre, is a stirring romance of pirate days with Paul Henreid, Maureen O'Hara and Walter Slezak in the stellar roles. The RKO Radio production by Frank Borzage, blends a wealth of exciting action and adventure into its dramatic plot.

WINNIPEG (CP) — Unions affiliated with the Winnipeg Labor Council (C.C.L.) at a meeting Friday night arrayed themselves behind the Canadian Congress of Labor's national campaign for a 40-hour week with increased pay.

Citizens Protest Against Billboards

Mayor Percy George received two more letters today protesting against erection of billboards in residential areas.

Miss E. L. Clarke of 460 Chester Street, wrote about a billboard at Cook Street and Fairfield Road, saying that the city restricts the type of houses built on private residential property, and should prevent the erection of billboards which are "as much an eyesore as old shacks."

S. H. Okell of 223 Moss Street, who said he was writing on behalf of all the residents of the neighborhood protested against three "eyesores" on the northeast corner of Moss and May Streets, claiming they have lowered the value of the property and that they now cut off the view of the Olympic Mountains.

Trade Commissioners Visit Here Monday

Five assistant trade commissioners, all of whom had seen service with the Canadian armed forces before joining the Dominion government service, will visit in Victoria Monday, meeting Victoria industrialists and B.C. government officials.

The commissioners are:

Thomas R. G. Fletcher, who is going to Melbourne; Alexander B. Brodie, to Brussels; John A. Stiles, to New York; Matthew R. Dale, to Auckland; and Charles R. Galloway, to Hongkong.

During the day the commissioners will meet Trade and Industry Minister Leslie H. Eyre, will attend a dinner at the Empress Hotel at noon, and will visit the B. A. Paint Co., Sidney Roofing and Paper Co. and Victoria Machinery Depot Co. Ltd. plants.

RIO THEATRE

Robert Lowery, Bill Henry, Roscoe Karns and other actors who play the roles of apprentice gamblers in "The Navy War," Paramount's film about the Great Lakes naval training station, now showing at the Rio theatre, actually had to go through much of the navy basic training while the cameras rolled.

The picture opens with the arrival at the station of a group of raw recruits and closes with the departure of the same group for ship assignment after completion of boot camp schooling. In between, "The Navy War" players are shown going through the steps involved in the making of Uncle Sam's seafighters. During that time, they had the status of "Macs"—the navy nickname for boot camp trainees.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Ingrid Bergman—used absolutely no make-up, not even a suspicion of lipstick for her role of Sister Superior Benedict in "The Bells of St. Mary's," Leo McCarey's delightful new comedy-drama for RKO Radio release, by Rainbow Productions, in which she is co-starred with Bing Crosby. It is now at the Capitol Theatre.
